II. Information We Collect on the Site and How We Use It

You can visit the Site and learn about the services we provide without providing Personal Information. You will need to provide Personal Information, however, to sell, bid on or purchase Items, and to participate in our User forums, if any, and other interactive portions of the Site. IP addresses, from which we can infer your general location, are collected automatically from every Site visitor, even if not voluntarily provided, as discussed further below.

We collect and use Personal Information in the specific ways listed below, to improve our Site and services to you, as well as to meet our legal obligations. We also use Personal Information you provide for other appropriate purposes in ways consistent with the reason you provide such information to us.

A. User Information

Generally, GunBroker.com uses your User Information in the following ways:

- To send you transaction-related notifications about transactions you carry out on the Site.
- To facilitate Buyers’ activity; if and when you bid on, make offers on, or purchase an Item, the Site shares your name, address, telephone number, email address, and bid information with the Seller.
- To facilitate Sellers’ activity; if and when you list an Item for sale, the Site shares your contact information, including name, address, email address, telephone number, and Item detail with bidders.

- To perform our billing, administration, and collections functions (and to contact you when necessary about these functions).

- To better understand your interests and for other marketing-related initiatives.

- To carry out actions requested by you (such as subscriptions to newsletters).
- To resolve disputes involving you.
- To share information with law enforcement or other governmental agencies or authorized third parties when required by Applicable Law pursuant to subpoenas or legally issued mandatory processes.
- To customize your experience with our company and our Site (for example, adapting the Site to your browser) and to help us develop new products and services.
- For other required or permissible purposes under Applicable Law.

Below we describe the various components of User Information and specific uses for each type of User Information.

B. Registration Information and Identity Verification Information

1. The Site's registration process requires Users to provide us with valid and accurate contact Personal Information including name, street address, mobile phone number, birth date, and email address (collectively referred to as "Registration Information"). We use this information for fraud prevention at the time of registration.
2. We verify your name and address provided at the time of registration and may use third-party identity verification service providers to assist us in identity verification and fraud prevention. We refer to this data as "Identity Verification Information."
3. Means of Verification: GunBroker.com uses several different methods of identity verification:
  - a. Credit Header Verification. One type of identity verification service is called "credit header" information. You may be required to answer a multiple-choice questionnaire compiled from information managed by consumer and business information sources. These questions can include elements of your financial history. We do not collect or store any of the compiled Personal Information from the "credit header" process. We receive from the service provider only an indication of how many questions you answered successfully.

- b. Pre-Fill Identity Verification Option. Another type of identity verification service uses your mobile phone “Subscriber Data” (as defined under Applicable Law) from your mobile carrier (AT&T, Sprint, T-Mobile, US Cellular, Verizon, or any other branded wireless carrier) to verify your identity. Your mobile phone Subscriber Data may include, without limitation, name, date of birth, postal address, billing zip code, telephone numbers, electronic mail addresses, last four digits of your Social Security Number, credit card numbers, Customer Proprietary Network Information (CPNI), location information, handset and mobile device identifiers (IMSI and IMEI), and other status details, if available, account information, and credit information.
  1. Identity verification using your mobile phone Subscriber Data includes a Pre-Fill Form Option for us to use to expedite verifying your identity. The Pre-Fill Form includes information verified by our mobile phone identity verification service provider. The Pre-Fill Form Option requires you to answer a question by submitting your mobile phone billing zip code. It also requires you to provide your express opt-in consent by clicking on the “OK” button on the consent page.
  2. By registering, you authorize your wireless carrier to use or disclose information about your account and your wireless device, if available, to us or our service providers for the duration of your business relationship, solely to help identify you or your wireless device and to prevent fraud.
- c. Manual Identity Verification Option. Where you do not agree to the “Pre-Fill Form Option” above or where your identity cannot be verified using that option, GunBroker.com may carry out a manual process to verify your identity before allowing you to become a Seller or Buyer on the Site. This requires you to submit written evidence of your name and address, including such documents as may be requested by GunBroker.com, such as a copy of your driver’s license, utility bill, or similar documentation as may be requested by GunBroker.com in its discretion.

C. Other Information We Obtain

1. Transaction Information. We collect information submitted or generated during transactions on the Site based on your activities, including all sales and purchases of Items, as well as shipping information where shipment is facilitated on the Site, and other information you provide in connection with buying or shipping an Item (collectively, “Transaction Information”).
2. We may collect certain Personal Information that you provide to us in chatbots, correspondence, or dispute resolution, which is also considered Transaction Information.
3. Financial Information. Before a User is permitted to Post Listings of Items on the Site, we collect financial information including bank account and/or credit card number, expiration date, card security code, and billing address (collectively, “Financial Information”). A nominal charge of $2.00 is charged to the User’s credit card before the User is permitted to Post Listings of Items, which charge is both to verify the validity of the credit card and to cover identity verification costs incurred by us. Financial Information is used to bill you for transactions you conduct on the Site and to collect on Fees incurred using the Site.

4. Site Activity Information. GunBroker.com strives to understand the interests of its Users and why they visit the Site and therefore collects the information described in this Section I(1)(d) (“Site Activity Information”). GunBroker collects Interest Categories through surveys of Users on the Site or through updates by Users to their preferences at the Preferences page in My GunBroker. Your indicated Interest Categories are reflected in your User Information. In addition, when you are logged into the Site, your IP address and other information provided by the computer or device you are using (described in Sections II(6) and II(7) below) may be associated with your User Information in our systems.
5. Information You Provide in Contests and Surveys. If you decide to enter contests or surveys featured from time to time on the Site, you may be asked for additional Personal Information. This information is used to administer the contest or survey (for example, to contact the winner) or as otherwise disclosed on the Site at the time we collect the information.
6. Information That We Request. We may ask you to provide Personal Information to allow us to respond to your requests for information or other requests made on the Site. Providing information in any medium (email, SMS, chat, social media, phone, among others) constitutes your agreement that we may record, retain, archive, and use that information subject to this policy, only for the purposes set out in this policy.
7. Information from Your Contacts with Us Through Social Media. We may collect your Username and other information you transmit to us over social media platforms such as Facebook® or Twitter® when you interact with GunBroker.com’s specific page or social media account. We use the information you provide on social media to respond to your requests or questions, to improve our services, and for other purposes as disclosed at the time of the interaction.
8. Emails from GunBroker.com.
  - Most email messages generated by the Site result directly from the User’s actions (such as registration information, confirmation of placing a bid or an offer on an Item, confirmation of Listing an Item as a Seller, or the User’s choice to subscribe to certain communications), or as necessary to inform you of changes to the Site or events related to the Site, or changes to the Site rules or policies. Other e-mail messages may result from marketing initiatives on the Site; however, Users may opt out of receiving marketing messages; see Section IV below.
  - Emails from us may contain web beacons or clear gifs. These are small graphic images that can be used for recording when an email has been opened to track the performance of email marketing campaigns. We, our Affiliated Parties, and our service providers currently log responses from web beacons and/or clear gifs.

9. Other Information We Collect. We automatically collect your IP address when you visit our Site. We use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server and to administer our Site. Your IP address is used to gather broad location information and to track usage patterns on the Site. We also may collect general geo-location information, device identification number and type, computer and connection information, statistics about page views, and standard web log information. We do not correlate this information with data about individual Users.

10. Cookies.

- a. What are cookies and why do we use them?

A cookie is a small text file containing alphanumeric characters that is downloaded and stored on your computer when you visit websites and uniquely identifies your browser. You do not need to provide us with any Personal Information if you simply want to browse through our Site. However, we use first party cookies, like many other websites, to record information that your web browser routinely shares, such as your browser type, browser language, software and hardware attributes, the date and time of your visit, the website from which you came, the geographical location of the Internet Protocol address, and the pages on this site that you visit. This will generally be data that we collect to compile Aggregated Data. We do not normally associate this data with the Personal Information that you provide to us, but we may do so to investigate apparent fraud or a threat to the Site, our business, or our Users. We use third-party cookies to collect information about how Users use our Site. More information about these cookies follows.

- b. Types of Cookies Employed on Our Site

1. First Party Cookies and Third-Party Cookies

First party cookies refer to cookies that are set by our Site. We are the only ones with access to this information.

Third party cookies or requests allow other third parties to have access to the information collected. These cookies are usually used for analytics and advertising. We use third-party cookies to collect information about how Users use our Site.

2. Strictly Necessary Cookies

Strictly necessary cookies make a website usable by enabling basic functions like page navigation and access to secure areas of the website. The website cannot function properly without these cookies. We use Google Tag Manager on our Site to manage tags on our Site. It is not really a cookie, but it is essential to the functioning of the Site and cannot be opted out of. We use other cookies controlled by us to identify trusted web traffic and preserve your session across page requests.

3. Performance Cookies

Performance cookies help website owners to understand how visitors interact with their website by collecting and reporting information anonymously. We use Google Analytics and Quantcast for this purpose. We also use these cookies to provide us additional information about the Users to our Sites, such as their interests, hobbies, and preferences, based upon information gathered by Google through the use of cookies and browser information. However, all information we gather via Google Analytics will be gathered on an anonymous, aggregate basis and will not associate this data with your Personal Information. We use this information to gain a better understanding of the visitors to our Site and to improve our Site and product offerings.

4. Targeting (Advertising) Cookies

Targeting (advertising) cookies are used to track visitors across websites, including the websites of third parties, for the purpose of displaying ads from companies other than the website owners — this is online behavioral advertising, or “OBA.” We allow service providers to track you when you visit our Website for the purpose of understanding your interests so that they can show you ads for other companies on other websites.

5. Retargeting and Remarketing

We may, using the techniques described above and in conjunction with third-party marketing services, gather information from your visit to our Site for purposes of providing relevant advertising content about our products and services to you in the future. This means that through third-party marketing services or third-party websites such as Google, we may display advertisements to you about our products and services, based on usage data collected during your visit to our Websites.

- c. Your Choices Regarding Cookies

1. We employ a service provider, TrustArc, to provide you with choices over the types of cookies placed on your browser on your Device, as described below. However, if you use certain browser add-on ad blockers, you may not be presented with the TrustArc cookie banner with your choices. In this case, you may either disable the ad blocker add-on or follow the instructions below to block cookies through your browser settings. Please note that you will need to take the actions outlined below for each Device and browser used by you in accessing the Site.
2. TrustArc Cookie Banner. The cookie banner on the Site allows you either to “Accept All Cookies” or “Customize Your Choices.” You are not permitted to opt out of GunBroker.com’s strictly necessary cookies, but you can change the settings to block analytics and/or tracking/advertising cookies.
3. Browser Opt-Out. If you do not see the TrustArc cookie banner, you may need to disable ad-blocker browser add-ons you are using on your Device. You may alternatively manage your cookie settings from your browser. For example, you can configure your browser to accept all cookies, reject all cookies, or notify you when a cookie is set. If you disable all cookies, however, it may interfere with the functionality of our Site, and you may not be able to use all of the Site’s features.

Details on how you can control and delete these cookies through your browser settings can be found through your browser’s specific settings or options page. You can also use cookie management and disposal tools at your own prerogative such as downloading and installing certain browser plug-ins.

You can opt-out of Google Analytics by downloading and installing the browser plug-in from the following link: <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

To opt out of seeing personalized ads via the Google platform, please visit: <https://support.google.com/ads/answer/2662922?hl=en>.

4. Global Privacy Control (GPC).

GPC is a browser setting that allows users to automatically send opt-out signals to sites or apps indicating that they do not want their browsing history sold or shared for OBA. We honor this browser setting when it is on browsers connected to IP addresses in states with applicable laws.

11. Mobile Devices

In addition to the information described above, we and our third-party service providers may collect additional information when you utilize any of our mobile applications, including the type of mobile device you use, the temporary or persistent unique device identifiers (sometimes called UDID), the IP address of your mobile device, your mobile operating system, the type of mobile Internet browsers you use, and information about the way you use our mobile applications.

If you utilize any of the location-based services on our Site, such as the functionality that allows you to search for a participating FFL in your area, we and our third-party service providers may collect, use, and share location data, including the real-time geographic location of your device. We use such information to provide and improve location-based products and services. You may opt out from further allowing us to have access to your location data by adjusting the permissions in your mobile device.

III. How We Share Your Information

A. Sharing with Affiliated Parties

C. Sharing with Third Parties

“Third Parties” are those parties who are not Affiliated Parties or Service Providers. Other than as described in the paragraph above or as specifically described elsewhere in this Privacy Policy, we will not share your Personal Information collected on the Site with third parties without your permission, except as necessary or appropriate to:

The opt-in for sharing information about your use of our Site with third parties to facilitate advertising of their products or their customers’ products via cookies is in our cookie banner.

Any opt-in for sharing your email with third parties so that they can send you email advertising about their products or those of their customers is in your preferences page. If you have opted into such sharing, be aware that GunBroker.com is not responsible for the practices of any such third party with respect to your Personal Information after disclosure. Consult the privacy policies of any such third party to determine how to stop receiving messages from such third parties.

This Privacy Policy only addresses the information that we collect from you, but not about how third parties to whom you disclose your information in your use of the Site may use and disclose it. If you disclose your Personal Information to third parties such as bidders, Buyers, and Sellers on our Site, other rules may apply to how they use and disclose information provided to them. We do not police or influence the privacy practices of third parties.

F. Corporate Transactions

parent and/or Affiliate company(ies) (including but not limited to a spinoff of an Affiliate and subsequent acquisition of that Affiliate by a new third party), or a sale or transfer of assets, we reserve the right to disclose or transfer your Personal Information to non-Affiliate third party acquiring company(ies) and other third parties. In the event of such a sale or transfer, we will use reasonable efforts to direct the transferee(s) to use Personal Information you have provided through this Site in a manner that is consistent with this Privacy Policy.

Your Privacy Rights Under State Laws

Under the law of several states (California, Colorado, Connecticut, Montana, Oregon, Texas, Virginia, and Utah) residents have some or all of the following rights:

1. The right to know what personal information we have collected, used, or disclosed about you during the past 12 months.
2. The right to correct it.
3. The right to data portability (not relevant to our Services).
4. The right to request that we delete your personal information in our possession.
5. The right to opt out of the collection and use of your information for online behavioral advertising (OBA).
6. The right to opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information in our possession

To exercise your right to opt out of the use of your data for OBA, see Section II.C.9.c (Cookies) above.

To exercise any of the other rights above, please complete and submit the required information online using our Data Subject Access Request Form \(“DSAR”\). See below for a fuller explanation of the process for each type of exercise of rights.

Verification Process and Required Information. We may need to request additional information from you to verify your identity or understand the scope of your request. Registered Users will be required to log into their accounts to submit these requests, although non-registered Users will not be required to create an account with us to submit a request or have it fulfilled.

Authorized Agent. You may designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf. We will require proof of your consent to designating such an agent and verification of your identity as described above.

Right to Know. All you have to do is submit your DSAR.

Right to Correct. Upon receipt of your DSAR, we may require you to log into your account to update or correct certain information.

Right to Deletion. Upon receipt of your DSAR, we may require you to log into your account and close the account. Where your account is not fully paid or you have active transactions or other matters pending, deletion of Personal Information is subject to the exceptions provided under applicable state law with respect to those matters and may be subject to an extension of the time to act upon your request as permitted by law. Upon your confirmation that you have closed your account, we will send you a message that we have acted upon your request to delete your Personal Information by deleting and/or anonymizing your data within our systems. Note, however, that we retain a copy of your deletion request in our compliance files for audit purposes, and that this file may contain your name, address, and email address. We also reserve the right to retain your Personal Information in accordance with other exceptions to deletion permitted under applicable state law (for example, retention of user zip code and transaction history for tax compliance). We need certain types of information so that we can provide our products and services to you. If you ask us to delete it, you may no longer be able to access or use our websites or purchase our products without providing the information again.

Right to Opt Out of Sale or Sharing of Personal Information in Our Possession. All you have to do is submit your DSAR. If you are a customer, you can also opt out of targeted marketing and advertising communications from us or our business partners by setting your advertising and marketing preferences in your account. See Section III(1)(c) “Promotional Messages” for more information.

Right to Opt Out of Sale or Sharing of Personal Information for Online Behavioral Advertising Through the Use of Third-Party Cookies. Please see Section II-C-9-c above.

Unless you exercise your rights to opt out of these uses (either by using the Data Subject Access Form or otherwise as explained in this Privacy Policy), we “sell” certain of your information to third parties to provide you with offers and promotions and opportunities that may be of interest to you.

We may provide the following categories of Personal Information to third parties for these purposes:

For online targeted advertising purposes: demographic and statistical information, User-generated content, device information and identifiers, browser and usage data, geolocation, and social media information.

For sharing with third parties to send you relevant offers, products, promotions, and opportunities: contact and registration information, demographic and statistical information, employment and education data, User-generated content, device information and identifiers, and geolocation.

Minors’ Right to Opt In. We do not sell – or knowingly collect – the Personal Information of minors under 16 years of age.

Right to Non-Discrimination. You have the right to not be discriminated against (as provided for in applicable law) for exercising certain of your state law privacy rights.

Global Privacy Control (GPC)

GPC is a browser setting that allows users to automatically send opt-out signals to sites or apps indicating that they do not want their browsing history sold or shared for OBA. We honor this browser setting when it is on browsers connected to IP addresses in states with applicable laws.

Right of Appeal: If we reject your DSAR request, you have the right to appeal that denial by notifying us that you disagree with our decision by email at privacy@gunbroker.com.

If you choose to appeal, please explain why you believe you are entitled to receive the information requested despite our denial. We will respond to any appeal within 45 days.

Right to Complain to Attorney General: If we deny any request you made under our Privacy Policy or this state supplemental notice, you may file a complaint with your state's attorney general.

Record of California Data Subject Access Requests

We keep a record of requests that we received from California residents.

For data deletion and data access requests, our Users submit requests through our DSAR form, and indicate what state they live in. We then send them an identity verification email. If the user does not verify their identity in 45 days, their request will be denied. If the user does verify in 45 days, we begin to fulfill their request.

We have calculated our median process time for verified data deletion and data access requests for California residents. Any requests completed within the same day are rounded to one day. The median process time is found by organizing the processing time of each verified request from lowest to highest. The middle number is the median.

California Shine the Light

California law permits Users who are California residents to request and obtain from us once a year, free of charge, a list of the third parties to whom we have disclosed their 'Personal Information' (if any, and as defined under applicable California law) for their direct marketing purposes in the prior calendar year, as well as the type of Personal Information disclosed to those parties. If you are a California resident and would like to request this information, please submit your request in an email at privacy@gunbroker.com.

California Do Not Track Notice

At this time, there is no worldwide uniform or consistent industry standard or definition for responding to, processing, or communicating "Do Not Track" signals. Thus, the Site is unable to respond to "Do Not Track" signals. However, we do honor GPC settings as described above.
